

Defibrillator critical maintenance

AED/CONCIERGE DEFIBRILLATOR MANAGEMENT PROGRAM

As defibrillators are a 'life critical' piece of medical equipment they need to be maintained as such, as would any other piece of medical equipment would be. Some questions you need to ask yourself are:

Does your defibrillator inspections comply with manufacturing specifications?

Are your pads and batteries in date?

A huge problem with defibrillators is that they are usually purchased and forgotten about. It is not uncommon for:

- Pads to expire
- Batteries to expire or go flat
- Units can sometimes fault or experience other technical issues if they are not properly maintained.

If you don't maintain your unit or have a proven service maintenance record the consequences could be severe, you risk having a unit that won't work, or worst case won't be able to save a family member, colleague, friend ect, potentially leaving you liable for an adverse outcome.

AED Concierge is a time and money saving, simple management program that reduces this risk through;

- Ensuring that you always have a fully operational shock ready device.
- Keeping defibrillators compliant with manufacturer's requirement for inspection.
- Reduces risk by ensuring defibrillators are compliant and operational.
- Offering ease of administration saves time and provides a safety net against forgetting to maintain a defibrillator.
