

ZOLL AED TRAINERS

TEACHING YOU TO SAVE A LIFE

It happens in a split second. A person collapses — the victim of sudden cardiac arrest (SCA) — and the clock starts ticking. You call for help and the medical personnel are on their way. But precious seconds are racing by. The best chance for the sufferer's survival is immediate CPR and a responder with an automated external defibrillator (AED).

Using an AED to deliver a shock within 3-5 minutes of collapse dramatically increases the rate of survival up to 70%
When it comes to sudden cardiac arrest, minutes matter.

COMPLETE SIMULATION CONTROL AT THE INSTRUCTOR'S FINGERTIPS

Zoll AED Trainers allow CPR and first aid instructors to have students experience what it's like to save a life with an AED. Choose from four different fixed rescue scenarios or have complete manual control of the entire rescue with the wireless remote.

The student pushes the on-off button on the Trainer to begin. The instructor then determines whether to shock on the next simulated heart analysis or not, whether the pads have been properly attached or not, and when the Trainer should say "PUSH HARDER" and "GOOD COMPRESSIONS." A simple pause button lets the instructor stop the rescue altogether, confer with the student, and then pick up exactly where the simulated rescue left off.
